Southtown Yoga • southtownyoga.com

Join Candace on a retreat to the beautiful & secluded village of Santa Catalina, Panama. Peace & tranquility abound in this remote, authentic surf town. This is a place where you can unplug & reconnect with YOU! Caring for ourselves is fundamental to the area of internal happiness. But who is actually taught what self-care is, how to do it, what it feels like & why it is important to do it? On this retreat we will utilize yoga, mindfulness, self-study & bodywork, to assist you in delving deeper into understanding the connections between the body & mind. Becoming aware of your own physical & mental limitations, expectations, beliefs & possibilities are key to allowing more joy into your world. See web site for all the details - only a few more spots left!
